Who we are:

An NGO with a vision

What started in 2009 was a dream to make the world a better place. Every time we take a small step towards a brighter future, we know somewhere; it's going to make a big impact on someone's life. We are here to spread awareness across this diverse country of ours, make our fellow citizens aware of their rights and empower them to fight for the same. Jagrut is a team of dedicated professionals under the humble patronage of a few great people all with the same mission: to make a difference.

With a united front, we fight to bring about change in every sphere of life, to touch souls and change destinies.

What we believe in:

“All Lives Have Equal Values”

We are here to nurture responsible citizens, to create awareness and educate our fellow countrymen.

After all we are in the land of Mother Teresa and Gandhi, every one of us carries forward with him/her a great legacy of kindness and faith; conviction in our fellow human beings, our children and our natural resources. We believe that all lives have equal values, which is why our principal motive is to unite people, breaking barriers of social atrocities that plague us like caste, creed, religion, etc. We aim to bring about holistic change, expanding to various spheres of life. And we want to do that with a fresh, creative attitude towards our world.

It could be a simple 'Blood Donation Camp' or 'A Religious Camp for Children' but these are just two bullets points in the abysmal cauldron of change. The way to look is forward and the time is now!

What we do:

The word 'jagrut' means awareness and that is what we are here to do. Spread awareness and help people rise above themselves.

While we work on multiple fields and issues there are some topics that are close to our heart like:

Rural Education: Eighty-seven per cent of the schools in India are in the country's villages. While we know that lack of education at the rudimentary level is a large reason behind the rising illiteracy rate in our country, we hope to create projects that will help change these disturbing statistics.

Empowerment of Women: The plight of our women in the villages and the lower rungs of society are deplorable. At Jagrut, we strive to make them aware, educate them so that they can be self-sufficient and in turn bring up their children better.

Narendra Hirani
President

Mission Statement

Our mission is to awaken the human race and serve as many people with compassion, providing social welfare services that contribute to the health and vitality of rural women and the physically challenged, and empowering children through means of education.

We at Jagrut, believe that 'All lives have equal values'. I think that all people deserve a chance to have a healthy and prosperous life. As citizens of the country, we are not fully aware of our rights and thus fail to exercise them. At Jagrut, we would like to create awareness amongst the masses towards our rights and social responsibilities.

I would like to invite you all to join hands with us to support and guide us in our journey of making the country a better place to live in.

These special children developed a variety of beautifully crafted products, ranging from candles, decorative flower arrangements, greeting cards, to even handloom dusters.

Senior Citizen Card Distribution

Jagrut with the support of Suntar Mahilla Vibhag distributed Senior Citizen Card, and also updated all Senior Citizens the importance of having a Senior Citizen Card. This is especially important, because in a country like ours the problem of taking care of senior citizens is hugely ignored.

Save Water Campaign

In a city like Mumbai, there is an ongoing struggle to save water. We are spreading more awareness through media about how big this problem really is.

Ban Plastic Campaign

After the 26/7 deluge in Mumbai - we took the initiative to address the problems caused due to the usage of plastic bags which was one of the main reason for the disaster. During the campaign awareness among people was created through media and distribution of jute & paper bags. We are glad that there is already a law banning plastic bags. It is proof that if we continue and believe in the cause, no effort goes to waste.

Valentine Day for Destitute Women

Valentine Day is to share your love and happiness with those who need the most. Jagrut celebrated Valentine Day with the destitute women of St. Gracias Home for the Destitute at Bandra (W). Smt. The PRICE OF HEALTHCARE in India is disconcerting. Nearly 93% of the poor who are hospitalized have to sell their assets, including the family's land - their primary income source. The status of health care in the country is alarming. Although, the life expectancy has increased, we are faced with the return of major infectious diseases like malaria, and tuberculosis, the non-communicable chronic diseases like cancer, mental disorders, circulatory diseases, bronchitis asthma and heart disease are on the increase.
